

What kind of PANEL MEMBER are YOU?

For children and equality for girls

START
HERE

Are you interested in making the world a better place for young people?

Yes, definitely

That sounds hard

Finish the sentence:
The world would be a better place if....

Girls had equal opportunity across the world

All politicians were under 19 years old

In 20 years you could totally see yourself...

Where are we more likely to find you...

At the front of the room, leading a movement

Behind the scenes, listening and learning

Do you get nervous trying to get your point across?

Yes, I am not super confident

No, I love a good debate

In a group you take the role of...

As an influencer, travelling the world

As a scientist developing life-saving medication

Your bestie says they want to start a club. You...

The responsible, thoughtful, grounded one

The wild and daring one. Act now, think later!

Start designing a poster

Grab supplies, snacks are essential!

Have you ever been involved with an international charity before?

No, never...

Yes I have

When a new opportunity comes your way you...

Stop and think about if this is right for you

Jump straight in

Would you ever take over 10 Downing Street for the day

Yes, and I'd change the world!

No, I would rather join the England squad...

You might take time to think and reflect, but that doesn't mean you're not creating the most change. We need people as passionate about social justice as you on the panel, and we can't wait for you to strengthen our movement.

HONEST
ALLY!

Don't let any lack of experience stop you – we want everyone to get involved on all parts of their journey. Your interest to learn more is enough. We need honest and powerful voices just like yours on our Youth Advisory Panel.

LEGENDARY
LEADER

You'll take up whatever opportunity is thrown at you to make the world a better place, and you can bring people with you while you do it. We need your drive to make change on the Youth Advisory Panel!

In case it's not obvious – there's space in this movement for EVERYONE. All you need is passion to make change in the world. Find out more and apply at <https://plan-uk.org/youth>
